

Git Flow

Main Branches

- Instead of a single `master` branch, GitFlow uses two branches to record the history of the project; `master` and `develop`.
- The `master` stores the official release history, and the `develop` serves as an integration branch for features.

Git Flow

